A digital and flexible process for creating, publishing and maintaining living documents

Two products in one

With WorkDOQ, the latest version of the documents are easily published on the web and in the mobile app, in the same flow.

Easy to maintain

Create new versions. Add levels and update the menu structure. Send changes on referral. Link between texts and sections. Compare versions and tag sections for easy creation. Maintenance of important documents and texts.

Easy to take part in

With WorkDOQ's interface, it is easy to navigate between chapters and headings. The user can also easily select the chapters and sections that he wants to print to PDF.

> We chose OVERBLIQ for three reasons: The flexibility and scalability of the platform itself, to quickly get a demo up to start testing, and that we got two products in one, an app and a website. Of all the IT projects I have been involved in, choosing OVERBLIQ was one of the most successful and fun.
